Argos 'Ask Trevor' Evaluation Report

Scenario: TC-ARG-013 (tc_arg_013_senior_mobile)

Persona: Accessibility & Senior / Beginner

Objective: Customer needs an accessible mobile phone for an elderly relative with large buttons.

Execution: 2026-10-13 23:26:12 -> 2026-10-13 23:27:10

Total Turns: 3

Execution Video: execution_video.mp4

OVERALL VERDICT: FAIL

Judging & Criteria Evaluation:

[FAIL] Recommends senior-friendly phones (e.g. Doro/TTfone)

Reasoning: Trevor recommended the Panasonic KX-TGE820EB, which is a cordless home phone, not a mobile phone. The customer explicitly requested a mobile phone for their grandfather. Trevor did not recommend senior-friendly mobile phone brands like Doro or TTfone that are specifically designed for elderly users.

[WARN] Highlights large physical buttons and emergency SOS features

Reasoning: Trevor highlighted large buttons in Turn 2 ('large buttons' listed as key feature), but did not address or confirm the emergency button feature that was explicitly requested in Turn 1. The recommended product appears to lack the emergency SOS functionality the customer specifically asked for.

Customer Query:

I need an easy-to-use mobile phone for my 82-year-old grandfather with large buttons and an emergency button.

Trevor AI Response:

I couldn't find a matching phone with that search.

Try searching again with different terms such as senior phone, big button phone, or flip phone. If you'd like, I can help narrow it down further for Argos.

Customer Query:

What's the battery standby time on the Panasonic KX-TGE820EB and is it sim free or does it need a specific phone line provider?

Trevor AI Response:

The Panasonic KX-TGE820EB has up to 250 hours standby time.
It is not SIM based. From the product information available to me, it doesn't work with a SIM card, and it's a cordless home phone, so it needs a compatible home phone line or virtual landline setup rather than a mobile network SIM.
If you want, I can help with the most suitable version for your grandfather as well.
